

Trini Christmas

TRIVIA TIME

Guess ?

- Find me where the road touches the sky. The land of seasoning and the sweet symphony of parang. Where am I?
- I'm French in origin and settled by many cocoa and coffee planters in the eastern side of the northern mountain range. The compte graced us with his presence for some time. Now we share our rich history and traditions of pastelillo and ponche de crema. Where am I?
- I came from Venezuela to work on the cocoa plantations. I brought the tradition to "parang" going house to house playing Spanish music with my Spanish musical instruments. My name is derived from being an "español" and working in cocoa. Today they call me?
- I am a mix of rum soaked fruit and baked to perfection. I'm not your typical oven baked treat. My melanin runs dark, deep and rich due to the added browning. What am I?
- I am a yellow thing stuffed and wrapped with banana leaves. Steamed or boiled to divine perfection. I'm the sweeter version of the traditional tamale. The Bajans have a different name for me but the Trinians call me?

Answer

- PARAMIN
- LOPINOT
- COCOA PANYOL
- BLACK CAKE
- PAIME

Score: 50 points

Happy Holidays!

Warmest thoughts and best wishes for a wonderful holiday season.